RM390,000 in EPF sounds like a lot.

Here's what it actually pays you each month.

EPF's new retirement benchmark

RM390,000

Basic Savings by age 60.
Phased in: RM290k in 2026, RM390k by 2028.

Spread over 20 years (age 60 to 80)

RM1,625 / month

That's the first-year payout.

Now the cost side

RM2,690 / month

What a single senior in the Klang Valley needs for a basic life (EPF Belanjawanku 2024/25).

The gap

−RM1,065 / month

Every month. And that's the basic target, not a comfortable one.

Most people aren't there yet

6 in 10

EPF members are still below the Basic Savings level for their age.

Do this in 5 minutes

1. Open the KWSP i-Akaun app
2. Check your Akaun Persaraan balance
3. Compare it with the Basic Savings for your age
4. Work out your monthly number, not the national one

Save this for your next review.

DM “RETIRE” for a free retirement check.

General information only, not financial advice. Sources: EPF Retirement Income Adequacy Framework; EPF Belanjawanku 2024/2025.